

2020 INFORMS O.R. & Analytics Student Team Competition

Entry Instructions

Submit the following three items:

ENTRY FORM

- Complete the form following the format instructions below.
- In the “Analytics Solution and Results” section, present the performance summary in the tables provided. For the more detailed results requested, submit those tables as separate CSV files.
- Teams may use any source of data or materials: computers, software, references, web sites, books, etc. All sources must be credited. Failure to credit a source will result in disqualification. Follow instructions for reference citation provided at the end of the entry form.

Format Instructions:

- Complete the Entry Form in MSWord. Convert to PDF and submit the PDF. You may use other editing tools, such as LaTeX, but must follow the format and structure in the MSWord form.
- Maintain the section headings in the form, and replace the explanatory text with your presentation. Use the same font style and size, margins and line spacing as used in the form.
- Figures, visualizations, appendices etc. should be embedded in this form, not provided as separate files.
- Do not exceed 30 pages, including all figures and appendices.

DETAILED RESULTS TABLES

Follow the format of the tables provided in the Entry Form (under “Analytics Solution and Results, More detailed results”). Upload as separate CSV files

COMPUTATIONAL RESULTS

Report numerical results using the Results Templates provided.

Other Instructions

1. Do not include team member names, the university name, or other identifying information. After registration, the Team Leader will receive an Application Code; this is your team entry number.

2. Entries are due no later than 11:59pm US Eastern Time, January 27, 2020. No further modifications, enhancements, additions or improvements may be made to the team's entry after January 27.
3. Entries must be submitted electronically; you will receive instructions on where to upload your entry.
4. Failing to follow any of these Entry Instructions may result in disqualification.